BROUGHT TO YOU BY — Chevron

Does your new oil meet the third spec?

Typical new oils for equipment meet OEM specs for performance and viscosity—but not cleanliness. Find out how little it takes to contaminate clean oil, and how much of an impact it can have on productivity and component life. Find out now.

NOTE FROM THE EDITOR

Waste Dive will not publish on Monday in observance of Labor Day. We'll resume our usual schedule on Tuesday.

If your weekend plans include catching up on reading (I know mine do), then be sure to check out some of our top stories from the summer. Reader favorites include our analysis of GFL Environmental's upcoming IPO, the future of landfill gas-to-energy projects and the cancellation of curbside recycling in Mississippi's largest city.

Speaking of recycling changes, I'm happy to report the comprehensive update to our state recycling tracker is nearing completion. Stay tuned for that in September, along with an exciting slate of feature stories planned for the fall.

Bernie Sanders's $16.3T climate plan promises major waste and recycling shifts

The Democratic presidential candidate's platform includes a national recycling program, divestment from incinerators, funding for food recovery and composting investments, and a right to repair policy.

EPA moves on implementing landfill emissions rule, still hopes for delay

Per a court order, the agency took multiple steps this month toward implementing an Obama emissions reduction plan. At the same time, it's seeking new relief from a California judge.
